

Culvert Work on City's Lake Creek Being Done

HEBER CITY—Heber City Public Works Department is trying to fix Lake Creek so that it will stay in its banks next year.

According to Bob Muir, Public Works Director, the culverts that are being installed are to prevent any flooding that might take place in the future.

"We're replacing the 36 inch pipes with 50 inch squash pipes," explained Muir. "They're wider, not as high, so we don't have to dig any deeper."

They are putting a 2 percent grade on all the culverts to keep sand and gravel build-up to a minimum.

The new pipes will allow about  $\frac{1}{3}$  more water through the culverts than the existing pipes do. The new pipes are being installed in several locations where flooding occurred this spring.

The city crews have already installed pipes in 5th East, 1st South, and 2nd East, and will completing installation on 4th West and 2nd North.

Besides installing new pipes, they are going to be dredging the river bed, removing all the debris that might cause a slowing of the water. This clean-up will be the biggest part of the next months work.

Muir said that besides working on the river bed, they would be working on the streets, repairing potholes, while the weather is warm.

serving food to the guests and ticket holders who began lining up at 6 p.m.

Joe Weight invited the high school band, under the direction of Mr. Gret Hexom, to play prior to joining the feast.

Doug Pope graciously provided the sound system that the politics used as adults and another third to the re-election of Howard Nielson, and the rest to go to the GOP State Committee for the governorship race."

The visiting dignitaries had a chance to eat, speak, and answer questions before that had to leave for Provo to attend and participate in a debate, portions of which were televised.

Wasatch Republicans had a chance to Central Park.

Offici

July 24th Special

TIGAR ALL-SEASON
STEEL BELTED RADIAL

$33.88

MOUNTED
FREE

155SR13

BF GOODRICH ALL TERRAIN

Heavy Duty

HEBER CITY, July 13 (LRJ) Heber City officials attended the grand opening of Broadcast House in Salt Lake City, July 13. Representing the city were Louis R. Jackson and Wayne L. Clegg, councilmen, and Eleanor J. Duke, Recorder.

An invitation was extended by Bonneville International Corporation, KSL Radio, and KSL Television their Board of Directors and Mr. Arch L. Madsen, President, and Mr. Jay W. Lloyd, Senior Vice President.

The Grand Opening permitted viewing and asking questions about "one of the most advanced electronic communications systems in the world."

Heber City's Public Works Department is installing new culverts to help prevent any future flooding. The new culverts are "squash" pipes, which are wider at the base, allowing more water to pass.

19 July 1984

als Attend Broadcast House

for radio and TV broadcasting as well as office amenities and layout, presents to the senses a feeling of orderliness, cleanliness, efficiency, beauty and pride. As guests proceeded from one point to another and were led by charming hostesses and informed by specialists in their fields, there was the feeling that this was an experience foreign to most people."

"Innovative projects, including AM stereo and TV stereo and computerized new-gathering systems, have already been implemented by KSL...one of only eleven stations allowed by the FCC to broadcast via 50,000 watts of clear-channel AM stereo sound. Its powerful signal covers over 100 counties in 10 states, and as an nighttime skywave coverage that is beyond measurement," indicated an informant.

VIP's and government representatives attended the Grand opening not only to see what sixty years of broadcasting has led up to, but to become acquainted with the Triad Center. There, commerce is being shown by first-phase tenants: Broadcast House, North Plaza Office, North Plaza Terrace, the Devereaux and the adjacent Carriage House.

The debut phase clusters around the historic Devereaux Plaza with its formal gardens. There will also be located at the base of the new buildings the Triad Amphitheater with its projected 2,300 seats. Triadheater will have an outdoor season that will last the whole year.

Groundbreaking for one of two 43-story towers is expected to take place this year. Two world class hotels, with a total of 1,000 rooms, are planned and construction is planned for fall 1984.

Talent Show Deadline Set for July 20

Those interested in participating in the Wasatch County Talent Show need to make arrangements before July 20th.

The high school auditorium will be available for rehearsals on Tuesday, July 31, and Wednesday, August 1, evenings. Times have been assigned to each age group.

JR. DIVISION - 6 p.m. to 7 p.m.

Call Norma Richardson 654-0700
Doris Mahoney 654-0817

INTERMEDIATE - 7 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Call June Hicken 654-0543
Hilda Patterson 654-1379

SENIOR DIVISION - 8 p.m. to 9 p.m.

Call Maxine Carlile 654-0305
Joyce Duke 654-1507

Boosters Kick-Off Another School Year

Wasatch High School students and teachers can look forward to another year of enthusiastic support from the school boosters.

A committee for the 1984-85 year has been formed with Fred roadbent serving as president. The group is already into fund raising activities. Vance and Peggy Farrer, who took the responsibility for selling fireworks during the last few weeks, turned in the first installment check for $300.00. Bud and Marsha Remund also presented a check for $350.00 for activities at the Homestead the last day of school.

Besides the Farrers and Remunds, Audrey Hill, Karolee Mair, Jay Casper, Richard Bonner, Ellie Eaton and Mike Lisonbee are assisting Mr. Road-bent as the Booster Club board of directors. Principal, Dr. Kent Larsen, is serving as a special advisor.

The Boosters, who have been meeting monthly for the last three months hope to contribute to many worthy school projects next year. They are planning to recognize and promote support for participation and excellence in every